

Swept by a desire to gather up ENERGIES, pull TOGETHER ideas and cultures, Autumn Winter 2223 is a surging call to TIGHTEN OUR TIES, to combine know-hows and expertise, all while favoring DIVERSIFICATION.

Collaborations are stepped up, generating CO-CREATIONS, all in a spirit of CONNECTION, synergistic enrichment and close cooperation.

Ecological imperatives demand a transformed approach to product development. Both global and specialized, these transformations move the fashion industry closer to a CIRCULAR ECONOMY, where ECO-DESIGNS are a springboard to powerful aesthetics.

A constantly evolving DIGITAL FLUENCY paves the way to new possibilities - for ALTERNATIVE ways to streamline, invent and produce.

A digital language that fosters more focused, original and forward-looking approaches.

Designs are conceived to TARGET with PRECISION, for fashion nurtured by PLURAL identities. The endlessly shifting bridges between style universes and uses are multiplying, anticipating a life-style spawning new interactions between intimate and showy, indoor and outdoor, well-being and well-fitting.

A season that calls for straightforward solutions, wearability, easy or bold shapes. Solutions BUILT from POWERFUL materials with STRONG sustainable, visual and tactile added-values.

The Autumn Winter 22-23 color range confidently reaffirms color's energy and power. Bright pulses and contrasting rhythms throb, like a pulsating heart entwined with a subdued luminosity infused with absorbed pigments.

Colors trigger a longing for proactive expression. They invite us to explore combinations that shine a light on the beauty of materials, and magnify the singularity of each savoir-faire and expertise.

PRECIOUS WARMS spring from the richness of a fertile earth, offering up a wealth of nourishing nuances. The shine of soft metal, the glossiness of fur and a velvety fleshiness magnifies color surfaces.

FORTIFYING BRIGHTS lend a jolt of positive spontaneity to newgeneration primary shades, to dare dynamic and glamorous combinations. Graphite and an ecru shade ramp-up the vibrancy of these chromatic and graphic clashes.

MYSTERIOUS SHADOWS lit by an artificial or lunar luminescence lend a new intensity to light versus darkness. Pale hues are tinged, while darks are warmed by deep brownish shades and heady purplish tones, to re-envision black/white contrasts.

SMOKY AND PIGMENTED, faded, taupey shades, worked in toneon-tone harmonies. Soothed and ever so slightly colorful nuances are played in monotonal variations, with mid-tones treated as conciliatory greys.

The season's palette delicately balances energetic intensity and familiar shades.

Colors open new gateways between one season and another, one universe and another, one creative field and another.

The ecoresponsible highlights

The ecoresponsible highlights

Veritable artisans of modernity, spinners, weavers, tanners and accessory component manufacturers are revisiting their tool kits to offer optimal sustainability. Innovation used to focus on the raw materials; now the desire to transform creations into virtuous versions is applied to the entire product life cycle. Today, eco-responsibility is present across the whole range. Each stage in the production process is examined in detail to find the solutions with the lowest impact; those that allow the design of clothing and accessories in line with both environmental and style requirements. Circularity, economising on resources, water and energy, non-toxic processes, biodegradability – eco-ingenuity is on the menu for winter 2022-2023.

The autumn-winter 22-23 season showcases the invisible properties of product developments – from the quality of the materials to the sensory appeal of the handles, from technical performance features to sustainable innovations.

A full exploration of the beauty of materials and expert know-hows, with extensively-researched compositions and creative constructions boosted by an eco-design approach, for sustainably original fashions.

The goal is to meet the challenges of eco-responsibility, sensing suppleness, roundness, elasticity, and cultivating invisible performances.

And what if true strength lies in things invisible to the naked eye?

Hybridized know-hows

A response to intersecting style universes and mixed uses.

The bridges between style universes and uses are constantly changing, multiplying and adapting to various lifestyles, fluctuating from an emphasis on well-being to easy comfort, indoor to outdoor, boldly extroverted to intimate.

There's a blurring of the boundaries between formal and informal, with increasingly sophisticated casual wear, and dressier looks moving towards a more contemporary ease.

Powerful fantasy

The Autumn Winter 22-23 dives into the world of fantasy with bold creations, surprising aesthetic proposals, and subtle, lively or mysterious colorways. A voyage of discovery through decorative know-hows in the light of unique graphic expressions.

Daring to sparkle like a shiny star, giving a quiver to sequins, or simply sprinkling precious bits of metal. Bringing that indispensable touch of extravagance to captivate with color. Giving your instincts free reign, offsetting animal designs with eloquent pictorial effects, judiciously flirting with bad taste, to develop grating, clever and enticing contrasts! Pushing tactile effects to a joyful exuberance, geometrics to an irresistible excess, and celebrating the sumptuousness of flowers!
